Letter of Opinion client email template

From Jonathan Wallace, REALTOR®, Faris Team Real Estate Brokerage.

When to use: after the letter is a one-page PDF. The letter is addressed to everyone on title. This email goes only to the person who asked. Paste it into your own email. You send it.

Give this file to your AI with the Letter of Opinion kit. The opinion of value is yours. The AI only writes the note.

Rules

- Short paragraphs. A blank line between paragraphs. Never one solid block.
- No em dashes. Canadian spelling (neighbourhood, honour, colour).
- Do not invent a comp, a price, a date, or a name.
- If you are replying on an existing thread, keep that subject.
- Otherwise the subject is: Letter of Opinion - [street address].
- Omit the maximum list price if you did not set one.
- A purpose line only if you named a purpose. It does not change the letter.
- If the client asked whether an earlier assessment is still current, and you gave the earlier figures, you may say the earlier assessment is no longer current. If you did not give earlier figures, do not invent a "what changed" section.
